WELCOME MESSAGES

> "THE FIRST OPPORTUNITY FOR LABEL CONVERTERS GLOBALLY TO SEE THE MAJOR TECHNOLOGY DEVELOPMENTS"

On behalf of Labelexpo Global Series, I am delighted to welcome attendees, exhibitors and press to Labelexpo Americas 2022 - our first machinery show in Europe or America for three years.

This means Labelexpo Americas presents the first opportunity for label converters globally to see the major technology developments which have taken place in our dynamic industry since then.

The rise of digital embellishment has been one such trend. After digital printing, digital embellishment will be the next big game changer for label converters and package printers, allowing the application of fully digital varnishing, tactile surface coatings, metallisation and laser die cutting.

The Digital Embellishment trail at Labelexpo Americas 2022 will enable attendees to explore the full range of digital decoration options, both stand-alone and inline, with live demonstrations, sample packs and experts on site.

Digital printing sees its own share of new press launches at the show, with inkjet productivity now approaching flexo in 4-color applications. We will also see the founders of the conventional narrow web press industry accelerating their own shifts towards the digital transformation.

Automation, Industry 4.0 and Artificial Intelligence are other key trends to watch our for at the show. AI is making rapid strides, particularly in machine learning for inspection systems, and automation is impacting just about every aspect of the label converting business from tool selection to job planning and factory management.

On the materials and consumables side sustainability is the key trend at this year's show. And this is not only about using more recycled material in label stock, or using forest-certified paper grades, it is also about adhesive and ink technology enabling the recycling of containers by releasing cleanly and without residues. TLMI will focus on many of these trends and on liner recycling at its own dedicated sustainability zone.

Labelexpo Americas 2022 also includes an extended conference and education program amplifying the technology trends seen on the show floor. The two-day conference program explores some of the label and package printing industry's key technologies and trends, including industry 4.0/automation, supply chain challenges, mergers and acquisitions, the changing industry landscape, and product diversification.

Two in-depth master classes will cover digital embellishment and self-adhesive label materials.

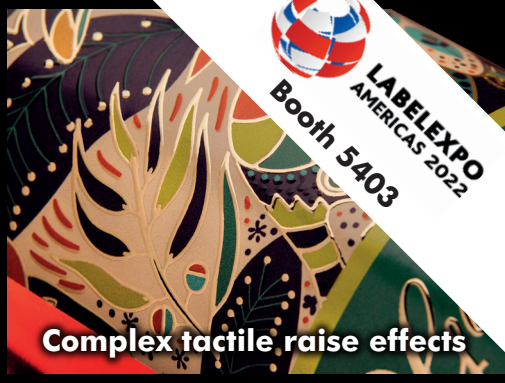

It is going to be a fantastic show!

WELCOME MESSAGES

TLMI is once again proud to co-sponsor Labelexpo Americas and this is our 28th year being an integral part of the most important trade show in the industry. The world was a very different place the last time we all gathered in Chicago four years ago, and if the events of recent years have shown us anything it's that our industry is made up of companies that excel at innovating, at taking care of their people, and at learning from and helping one another.

For nearly nine decades, TLMI has been providing invaluable resources, peer-learning, and networking opportunities to our members. Over the past 89 years, TLMI's Strategic Plan has had many iterations; however, the association's core values today are much like they were during the time of its founding: Community, Insight and Advocacy.

I want to strongly urge both TLMI members and prospective members to stop by the TLMI booth #99 to say hello and feel free to use TLMI for a meeting or check email. I want to also urge attendees to attend some of the presentations happening on the show's Eco-stage powered by TLMI, booth #3220, where industry members and thought leaders will be addressing sustainability and discussing solutions and environmental strategies, we can all integrate into our own organizations.

It has been a long wait and we are both thrilled and honored to be able to partner with Tarsus for the 2022 Labelexpo Americas exposition. The synergistic relationship we have with Tarsus benefits TLMI members as well as the greater industry, and this decades-long collaborative partnership has truly stood the test of time.

I wish you all a successful show and it's great to be back together in Chicago once again.

Linnea Keen
President, TLMI

DIGITAL EMBELLISHMENT TRAIL

See live demonstrations from experts onsite showing how digital embellishment can transform a converting business.

After digital printing, digital embellishment will be the next big game changer for label converters and package printers.

Digital embellishment means replacing analogue coating, decoration and converting processes with digital. This can range from simply replacing a flexo varnish plate with an inkjet-applied varnish, to digital foiling, digitally applied tactile effects, simulated embossing/debossing and laser diecutting - all fully variable with on-the-fly job change and no tooling.

The Digital Embellishment Trail at Labelexpo Americas 2022 will enable attendees to explore the full range of digital decoration options, both stand-alone and inline, with live demonstrations, sample packs and experts on site to discuss how digital embellishment can transform a converting business.

Discover the latest developments with

- High build inkjet varnishing,
- Digital metalization and
- Laser die cutting.

Each participating company will have samples available:

Leaders in Moisture and Coat Weight Measurement & Control

NON CONTACT. INSTANT. ACCURATE.

A one-time calibration system guaranteed not to drift over time:

Maximizing automation and increasing reliability by reducing costs is a major aspect for operation and easily achieved through proper moisture and coat weight monitoring. Moisture ranges outside of tolerance can unravel important facets of the production process. Each phase of manufacturing runs more efficiently with accurate moisture and coat weight measurements, providing increased profit margins. If moisture is not properly regulated during the production process, the end quality becomes inferior and product waste occurs.
